

Directions

1. Introduce yourselves.
2. Assign roles: time keeper, recorder, chat monitor, and reporter.
3. Discuss any wows, worries, or wonderings you might have about delivering professional development in the virtual environment.
4. The recorder captures your groups' ideas on your groups' slide.
5. If there's time before you are called together, "gallery walk" by looking at the other groups' slides.

Group 2 - Atia, Lori, Marta, Deepa

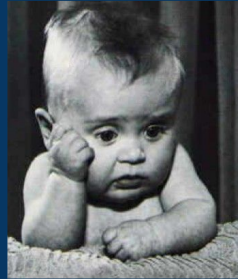

Wow:

Zoom is a great platform; connecting with anyone anywhere; not being constrained by location; multitasking;

Wonder:

When will we get back to in person learning?

Worry:

Understanding technology - do we understand technology, do our participants understand technology ; worried about our children - delays in social emotional development, problem solving, peer interactions

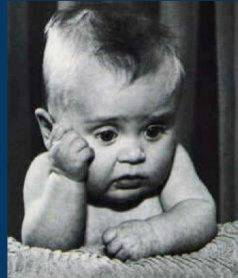

Group I (Tracey, Tina and Adriana)

Wow: Excitement in the topic

Wonder: Making the time for PD with increasing teacher demands
Understanding and application of content

Worry: Understanding/ knowing how to use the technology
Engagement
Technology/Sound difficulties(video specifically)
How to check for understanding

Group 3

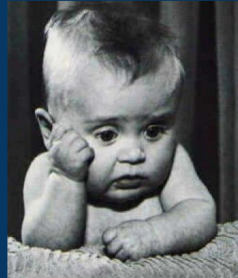

Wow:

The ability to reach more people and be flexible.
Access to the resources with live trainings
Easier to schedule and can reach a broader audience
Financially feasible.

Wonder:

If information is being received as intended
Physical fatigue (our eyes)
How will this impact education
Internet access;

Worry:

Technology issues - fear or inexperience with technology
Disconnect with people
Limited social interaction
Access

Group 4

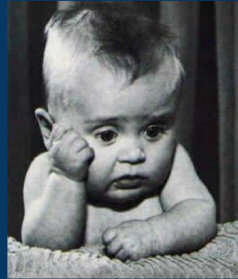

Wow:

Impressed with the level of competence
Persistence and level of willingness to navigate virtual world
We are doing it!

Wonder:

How attentive are folks really being? How are they applying learning?
Are folks engaged? I wonder if folks will ever come back to in person learning /better pre
There has been so much free training, will folks ever be willing to pay for prog organizations again

Worry:

What happens when return to in person learning?
Am I being heard? If tech drops out how can we be sure? Are we being interactive. Obstacles to engagement
How does this change the future/how do we integrate this new learning into how we used to do it

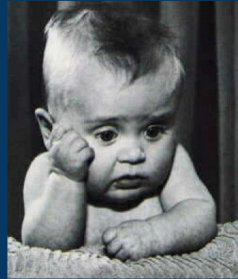

Group 5

Wow:

Wonder:

Worry:

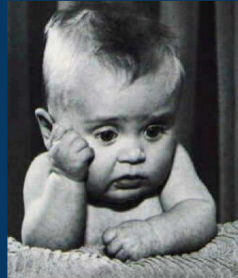

Group 6

Wow:

Wonder:

Worry:

Group 7

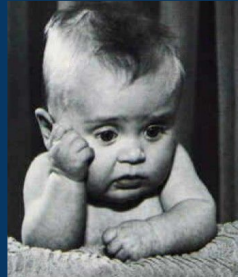

Wow:

We are able to communicate more with each other on a daily basis.
-Small groups have proven to be more beneficial and successful in terms of making connections.

Wonder:

Is the participation really there?

Worry:

How much time gets spent on finding information virtually? How much time are we spending making sure everyone is comfortable using technology?
Feeling of isolation

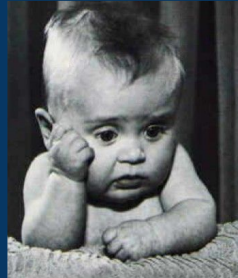

Group 8

Wow:

Wonder:

Worry:

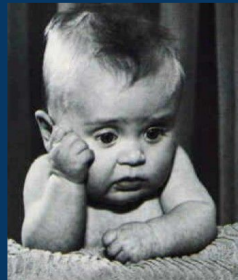

Group 9

Wow: Above and beyond for online trainings.

Wonder:

Worry: Balance of work/family life. Too much screen time

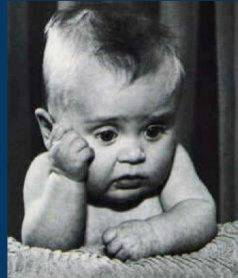

Group 10

Wow:

Wonder:

Worry:

Group II

Wow:

Wonder:

Worry:

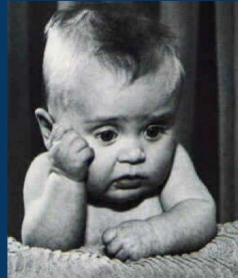

Group 12

Wow:

Wonder:

Worry: